Here are some of the written testimonials we have received from our customers:

REGARDING THE PERSONAL HARMONISER:

"The Mobile Phone Personal Harmoniser has a significantly protective effect against exposure to electromagnetic fields and radiations from mobile phones", Biologist Roger Coghill, MA (Cantab.) C. Biol. MI Biol.

"I received the harmonizer ordered a couple weeks ago, and it does everything you said it would. I showed it to my chiropractor/homeopath and she was very impressed and will be ordering soon.

I taped the harmonizer to my leg, after being hit by a large piece of firewood that left a very sore spot, and the next day it was fine, bruised but no pain. Very impressive".

Stanley Lalonde

"The harmonizers and energizers I have received from you are Great! I have an energizer on the water mains and the whole house is energized. The harmonizers are very efficient, and I have been using them in healings. I cant wait to experiment with more of them, and will be giving numbers of them as presents this holiday. Thank you for presenting such a wonderful array of products."

Geoffrey Boak

"Over the last two or three weeks I have noticed a feeling of wellbeing. I have been less tired, more mentally alert, my eyesight has been better and my diabetes more balanced. I feel that this change has a lot to do with the use of a Personal Harmoniser and drinking energised water".

Sylvia Price, Northern Ireland

"I bought a number of personal harmonisers and after wearing mine continuously since I have had only one (minor) cold. Prior to that I was getting regular almost monthly colds! Magic stuff!"

Steve Pardue, UK

"I would just like to say how pleased I am with my Personal Harmoniser for my mobile phone. Almost immediately I noticed a reduction in the frequency and intensity of headaches I was enduring after heavy use of the phone. Further to this I no longer suffer from the burning sensation I used to get in my inner ear. I would definitely recommend the personal Harmoniser to all users of mobile phones".

P.R. Glanfield

"I've been using a mobile phone for 18 months. When I started charging up the phone over night in my bed room next to the bed (in stand-by mode), I developed a kind of drowsy, muzzy feeling mostly during the first few hours in the morning.

Since fitting your Personal Harmoniser to my phone these symptoms have disappeared and I feel more energetic now. The general conclusion is that the Personal Harmoniser has made a great difference to my quality of life".

Barry Dawe

"I notice that the Personal Harmoniser keeps up my energies with just wearing it near my heart one hour per day - otherwise by my constitution it is almost too much - I got this message testing with my pendulum and my healer checked it out. Two others here at Lebensgarten have had really good recovery from back aches to depression. This is just a quick feedback to let you know how important your work is".

Declan Kennedy

"The products are wonderful! I felt the energy from the vortex energisers right away just holding them in my hands. I have already sold out of them! I am very excited about this new addition to our product line, and am looking forward to working with you"

Christan Hummel, California

"I've had the Personal Harmoniser for about a month now and find the results both helpful and intriguing.

Shortly after receiving it, a long-standing back problem reappeared and I envisaged days of creeping about with visits to the osteopath. Not at all convinced it would work, I taped the Harmoniser to my spine and waited for action. None immediately, though I did sleep that night.

Next day - agony, and I jeered. However, still wearing the Harmoniser by lunchtime I was on the move again and virtually pain-free. Even better, after 3 days - without seeing the osteopath - I'd returned to full, pain-free mobility and have never felt a twinge since. Given my past history of back problems it's a miracle and, another bonus, no more 'bursting head' feelings when working on my computer so thank you very much indeed!"

Diana Phillips

"Thank you very much for your swift delivery of my personnel harmoniser.

I've been using it everywhere! I did a taste test on drinking water and was quite amazed at the taste and quality of difference, I felt a clean pure coolness inside me with just a sip of harmonised water. My computer also feels like its got a new more solid calm and the fridge now has a smile."

Nicola Clark

"A week or so ago I developed a streaming cold. I was not wearing the harmoniser at the time. I wore it for the next 24 hours and miraculously my cold disappeared. I have worn it ever since. Most impressive."

Richard Hourston

"Wow! It really works! I suffer from Crohn's disease, and after donning your harmonizer last night I felt a little unwell, but I've awoken better than I've felt in a long while. I did a test on my brother to see if he could tell which 2 glasses of water had been energised out of 4. He could decidedly tell. It really tastes different, and defies accepted science. Please could you send me details on how I can help distribute your products because I'm impressed with your company's mission. A pleased customer,"

Richard Howard

"I thought you would like to hear of my experience this past weekend with your Personal Harmoniser.

On Saturday I was out with my tractor cutting down brush along my fence line (we raise natural/ecological beef). As I went through a particularly heavy spot, a 5" diameter branch appeared at the left side of the tractor and, before I could react, the forward motion of the tractor caused it to pin my leg against the tractor. Since that leg was then unable to depress the clutch, I couldn't stop the tractor. I thought for a split second my leg would be broken, but out of pure instinct, I suppose, I jumped up off the seat and, by twisting around backwards, managed to free my leg from the grip of the branch. Somewhat shaken, I said a prayer of thanks for the leg remaining unbroken, but realized I had suffered a rather severe contusion about 5" above the ankle. I hobbled around for several minutes before the pain subsided enough that I could get back to the house. That evening, although I had rolled down my sock, the entire leg was puffed out around the top of the sock, and it had become increasingly painful to walk on it.

As luck would have it, your package arrived that very day, so I went to bed early with your literature and a cold pack on my leg. When I read about applying the Personal Harmoniser (PH) to painful areas, I immediately taped it to my leg. After about an hour or so the swelling and pain had subsided somewhat, and I felt like getting up to get a snack. I attributed this to the effect of the cold, but after sitting up for over an hour without the cold pack, but with the PH still taped on, the swelling and discomfort seemed to have stabilized. I went back to bed with only the PH and no more cold packs.

When I awoke yesterday morning, I (and my wife) was amazed to see that the swelling had decreased markedly, and there was absolutely no discoloration around the injury or anywhere else. Having grown up on a farm and continuing to lead a rather active life outside my employment as a computer software engineer, I have experienced comparable injuries in the past, and always, even with lots of cold packs, the morning after would reveal prominent swelling and dark blue discoloration of the area around and below the injury. This time there was none of that. In addition there was only minor discomfort walking and very little tenderness around the area itself. Oddly enough, most of the discomfort was in my big toe! (I still am not sure what to make of that!)

After answering as best I could the barrage of questions from my wife concerning imploded water, Schauburger, etc., she made the observation that the Vortex Energiser reminded her of the Inter-uterine device she had previously used for contraception. She also wanted to use the PH on her foot, which has been causing some pain lately. Being curious about the Computer Harmoniser, I cut open the case to find the 2 PHs in there and gave her one and set a jug of water on the other. I then went to work pulling out the fridge to lay the Vortex Energiser against the compressor piping.

We have what I have considered high-quality water from a deep well (400') which has been extensively tested and found free of contaminants and to have a pH of 8.3. Also, I have magnets (GMX company) attached to the line where I draw my drinking water. With the magnets I have noticed a subtle improvement in the way the water "sits on my stomach", but after energizing it with the PH, I could perceive a marked increase in softness and smoothness and a noticeable feeling of well-being after drinking it. These perceptions did not diminish as I continued to drink from the jug all day.

After the fridge job, for most of the day yesterday I sat reading without my leg being elevated, and, although some swelling returned, I was quite able to go out and move the cows to fresh pasturage that evening. Also, the discomfort in my big toe was gone by then.

This morning when I awoke (with the PH still taped on, of course!), the swelling had again subsided, and I am walking around today quite free of pain with no one the wiser that I was even injured. I even considered going out for my usual 4 ½-mile run today, but I think I may wait one more day for that!

I haven't gotten a "foot report" from my wife yet, but I do have another story to relate concerning my 16-year old daughter. I might mention that she has become accustomed to the eccentric habits and odd experiments her father sometimes conducts. She gave me a knowing smile Saturday night when she saw the PH under the cold pack, but her expression changed when she saw the results the next day. As it happened, she had jammed a finger playing softball Friday, and last night she was quite willing for me to tape a PH on it for her. This morning, although it was still somewhat sore to bend, the swelling had decreased and the discoloration I had noticed around the joint last night was gone!

What all this is telling me is that your device is imparting a vitalizing energy to the fluids the body is using to transport damaged cell debris away from the injury site and as well to bring nutrients to the site for tissue regeneration. I have investigated many alternative healing therapies, but none has approached the dramatic results I experienced this weekend. You certainly have my gratitude and my endorsement for the exciting and momentous work you are accomplishing. Shortly I will be placing another order for more products to share with friends and family."

"I want to tell you about my experiences with the two personal spirals I bought from you recently, for protection against radiation from mobile phones and mobile phone base stations:

I work with a Dr Corti who I consider to be a superb healer; she does radionics, is a homoeopath and does trance healing among other, more conventional practices. Several mobile phone base stations are on the roof of my house, plus I have a mobile phone and work a lot on the computer. Dr Corti tests me, radionically, for radiation, every few months and I have always been saturated and always needed clearing. (By the way, she's in the States and I'm in China.)

Today, I asked her to check me for radiation - I hadn't mentioned your spirals - and she did and I was totally free from radiation. Unheard of, in my case. The only thing she asked was "Have you had any ex-rays recently?" and in fact I had two last week for emergency dental work.

Prior to those two x-rays I had not had any for so long I can't remember.

That was all that showed up in my system: I guess the spirals can't deal with conventional ex-ray radiation. But on all the other types of radiation, each of which she checked separately, I came out clear. Oh, fabulous!!! I am absolutely THRILLED. Thanks very much for your good work."

Sally Nicholls, Hong Kong

I also am studying energy but at a healing level [student of Bi-Aura Energy Therapy] and suspect this is why my job has become increasingly debilitating as I become more open. So far over the first two days of wearing the personal harmoniser to my work [medical artist - most of the work being unfortunately computer based] I experienced a huge difference in my energy levels and general well being. Many thanks for your after sales interest, you are also impressive in the speed at which you serve your clientele.

With regards"

Caroline Morris, Scotland

"Congratulation for your efforts and for the products. They really give not only hope but improve significantly the quality of life.

Best Regards"

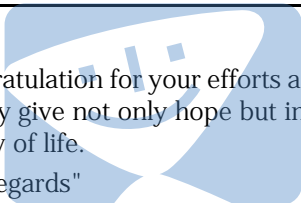

Cosmas Papakonstantinou, Greece

"I can tell you right away, that I was very satisfied with the last personal harmonisers I had.(I lost them both) I got interested after reading a book on Schauberger . Originally I am from norway, where we have very good water in the rural areas where I used to live, so when I moved to the densely populated south of sweden, I couldnt drink the water, because it tasted like shit. First I owned a kind of magnetic pen, that you stir the water with. It was also good, but the pers. harm. is simpler, faster, and i think, more effektive (I can easily taste the difference, I have done a lot of blind tests with my friends, and I have never been wrong) I am really looking forward to use, and test the big water energiser. I will report in on my opinion. I think the work you are doing is wonderful, and also very important. I wish you the best of luck. Also thanks for the infomative website. I refer to it all the time when I am convincing my friends about the splendidness of these products!"

REGARDING ENERGISED WATER

"My order was received in good condition. I hope the gift recipients are as delighted as I am. My daughter (age 15) was a bit skeptical, but once used I hope her mind will change. My Vortex Energizer has made a difference in the water and I am pleased with it. Thank you,"

Claudia Rys

"Just writing to let you know that I'm very pleased with the vortex energiser. I was surprised by just how much the water improved after I'd attached the energiser to the incoming water pipe. The first thing I did though, was attach the energiser to one of our radiator pipes for 24 hours. The water within our radiators has always been not just slightly discoloured, but black, like old engine oil. Our radiators for the past ten years have constantly needed bleeding, especially in the Winter months, and the water's always been the same. Twenty four hours after attaching the energiser it was removed to be permanently placed on the incoming pipe. The first thing I noticed was that the radiators seemed hotter than usual. After a week I bled the bathroom radiator just a little bit, the water had cleared and was a brownish colour. I checked again after three weeks had passed and was shocked to discover the water in the bathroom radiator was crystal clear! I checked all the radiators and the water was of the same quality. Please keep me informed of any new products, information, etc."

Stephen Howlett.

"I am delighted with my Vortex Energiser. Our water in Oxford is very hard, often cloudy and smelling of chlorine. I have fixed the Vortex Energiser to the cold pipe under the sink in my kitchen. It has made a vast difference. The water is now soft, very clear with no chlorine. I also notice when steaming vegetables Oxford hard water used to make deposits on the saucepan after cooking. Now with the Vortex Energiser this does not happen. It is also much more pleasant to drink. I am sure it is helping my health and sleep.

I wish you every success in your work".

Joan Gibson, B.A., UK

I wore the personal harmoniser for the last two days in Milan and almost immediately felt "uplifted" energy-wise. The city vibes dwindled and the flight home was really pleasant - I hardly seemed to notice that I was in amongst all the pollution and electricity.

I energised my fridge and freezer with the Vortex and - guess what - my unpasteurised milk which used to be "off" by the third day now lasts into the fourth day at least (none left by then). Proof or what!!!!!!

The mains water (which is all I have) is quite, quite different. It cleans with hardly any soap (I use nothing strong because I have an eco-wetland system for waste water). I couldn't stop cleaning with it after a few days of the Vortex being on the pipe - a very unusual occurrence as my building is very rustic.

I filter the water before drinking and for the first time I craved drinking it just as water. I friend came a couple of days ago and she drank a glass of water, she remarked how good it was and requested a second glass. So that was a blind test, she doesn't usually like drinking water.

I just feel that the water has invigorated the energy around my building, which is new and built with straw and clay and natural materials (as much as possible). The building has always felt good but the land itself (I've known it for 30 years) always felt "dead" and in trouble. Now I fancy there is more wildlife already. I am surrounded by birds building nests as if I wasn't there at all and a couple of new deer have arrived to join the family that daily come out of the woodland onto my field to graze.

It's so wonderful.

With much love and light to you"

Lysana Robinson

"I really like the products. I have my Energiser on the water supply of a greenhouse right now, and they are getting fantastic results on their flowers. They are beautiful. I would like to introduce the products in my area. Having studied water for the past couple of years, I can see the value of your products. I hope to be ordering some more of your products before the month is out."

Ervil McKemy, USA

When I installed the one in the workshop within two days a pair of barn owls decided to pay us a visit and stayed in the roofspace for two days directly over the vortex coil. I was delighted, nature confirming the wisdom of my decision!"

David Vibert, UK

Thank you for the vortex energiser, which has now been installed. You asked me to let you know how I got on with your products.....well, I am truly delighted with them. My first purchase was the personal harmoniser, which I used to improve the taste of my drinking water. However, whilst browsing on the internet one day, I came across a website recommending simple things one could use instead of buying chemical cleaners, e.g. to clean brass "use equal parts salt and flour with a little vinegar". One of the recommendations was the use of household borax to reduce the quantity of soap powder normally used by half. I misread this, and thought the advice was, to use borax, only. I decided to try this, and, using a small quantity of borax, and putting the personal harmoniser into the water, I was agreeably surprised to find that indeed it did wash the clothes perfectly. Not only that, rinsing was unnecessary, and the clothes felt very soft, and smelled 'clean'.

I have been doing this for several weeks, washing personal clothing, bed linens and towels, even a shower proof coat, without using any soap powder whatsoever. Not only that but but I don't rinse anything either....and everything feels much cleaner....no soap residue, I suppose!

Heavy woollens, may require a second soaking, especially the first time this method is used. I suggest you try this for yourself."

Marjorie Conway

"As you probably know Australia is a dry old continent. At my home, which is shared accommodation, I have put myself in charge of the garden watering system. We can get water spread about the property but the garden still struggles under 40 degree plus heat.

However since fitting the V.E. and for someone who has been watching the garden closely, the changes in the garden have been remarkable. The form, number and colour of the flowers is greatly improved. The life span of the flowers which in this heat is usually brief, has increased notably. Flowers that one usually see drop off in half a day only are still open and glorious. The ground cover plants have picked themselves up off the deck and are straining sky wards.

For the writer this has brought a flood of realisation around the generally poor quality of water or "soul-less corpse" as Viktor Schauberger would say. Thank you again. "

Regards

Nigel Dobson, Melbourne, Australia

"I am writing to let you know of the positive effects I have experienced with the Vortex energiser and the Personal Harmoniser, which I have been using for nearly three months now.

I have attached the Original Vortex Energiser unit to the inlet water pipe of my house and have noticed several changes:

The water from the tap is clearer and more sparkling; the taste is also much clearer, with hardly any noticeable chlorine smell or taste discernible (compared to non-energised tap water, which has a distinct chlorine taste and smell.) The Vortex Water also has a 'lively' taste to it, and gives an experience of drinking mountain spring water which is full of life. I have also noticed that the water feels softer when washing with it, and that the soap lathers more easily than before. When showering in energised water, it gives the body a feeling of wellbeing and energy from the water.

Regarding the Personal Harmoniser, which I carry with me at all times, I use this to energise any drinks and fluids that I consume when I am not at home, and by placing it next to the drink for 10-15 seconds, it seems to give the same effects and benefits as the Original Vortex Energiser unit.

I would like to thank you very much for these extremely valuable and reasonably priced products".

Roy Tibbetts, UK

"thank you for the new order and the inclusion of a silver personal energizer as a gift. my wife had asked me to order one with the next order, so thank you. everyone that comes into my office and sees the energizers is instinctively drawn to them, so i think you will be receiving additional orders from santa fe if you havent already. i am a rolfer and do various types of energy and bodywork, so i find your products extremely useful and effective. i would like to order one more of the large vortex energizers. the ones that i have received from you haven't even made it back to the house, let alone be installed on the water line. thanks for you great products and research."

sincerely,

Robert Schrei, USA

"This has been our experience so far with the vortex products. First we drew tap water from our well and filled a glass jar of well water and set the personal harmoniser against it. Came back after 15 min and drew a second glass untreated. The water in the treated glass had a pure, clean taste, and felt softer and thicker when compared to the untreated water in the other glass. What a delight.

Needless to say we did not hesitate to fasten the Vortex Energiser to our main pressure tank and have used this treated water ever since.

Because our well water comes out of the ground at about 45F and is too cold to drink directly in winter, we have set up an oval 2 1/2 gal glazed pottery cooler with spigot and have fastened a personal harmoniser inside the lid. This water becomes warmer than that from the tap. We use this for our drinking water, for our dog and house plants.

Our transplanted parsley plants in separate pots were brought into a sunspace for the winter and were struggling for three weeks from transplanting shock. After having watered them with the treated water, they all perked up and now look perfectly healthy.

Carol sprouts several kinds of certified organic grains, as well as seeds of alfalfa, broccoli, radish and others. They are rinsed with treated water and have responded with vigorous growth and taste wonderfully. Another thing she does is to soak shelled organic English walnuts, almonds and other nuts for 12 hrs. Rinsed well and dried at 112F till dry and crunchy. They seem especially delicious to us by having been soaked in the treated water.

She also soaks organic dried fruit for about 6 hrs and has added therapeutic grade essential oils to the soaking water, such as lemon, grapefruit & orange. Since using the treated water, the fruit itself absorbs the water more thoroughly and are more mellow and fresh tasting, as are the flavor-filled soaking water. (apricots, raisins, dates, figs, prunes are the main fruits we use).

We enjoy adding therapeutic grade essential oil of peppermint (as Shirley Price might use in her work) by adding a drop to a glass of pure water. The energised water dissolves and disperses the oil into many tiny drops compared to the glob of oil when we used untreated water which required steady stirring before drinking it.

We close by wishing all members on the implosion research team much joy during this lovely season!"

Carol and Arne Hovin with our love, USA

"As a healer, I am perhaps more sensitive than most to subtle forms of energy. I can honestly say that simply holding the Vortex Energiser, I noticed a heat and enveloping energy field around myself, which is very similar to the sensations involved in channelling healing energy.

I first used the Vortex Energiser on the central heating system. For a few days, I left the apex of the device resting on the pipe in order that the resonance could be induced into the water in the radiators. Once stored in this closed system, the vibrations remain and are given out into the environment of the home, thereby lifting the overall atmosphere. It did not take long before I could discern a noticeable etheric field around the radiators, which I had not noticed before.

I then repeated the process with the closed coolant system in the refrigerator. This has resulted in food staying fresher for longer and delaying the moulding process considerably. Furthermore, beer stored in the fridge has a subtle change in flavour - closer to natural bottle-brewed ale. I presume this to be the enlivening effect of the biophoton emissions now emanating from the coolant.

Finally, I strapped the device to the incoming water pipe beneath the sink in order that all tap water is now energised. Comparing ordinary tap water to energised tap water: the latter certainly smelled less of chlorine than the former and tasted cleaner overall. On a more subtle level, the texture of the energised water is far softer and less dense than before. The physical softness reminds me of water, which I once drank from a mountain spring in Germany.

I used to use bottled mineral water, but now am content with charcoal-filtered, Vortex Energised tap water (we are lucky to have non-fluoridated water here in North Shields). My overall energy level and physical wellbeing is a good as ever. My mental clarity did seem to improve since using the device, although I do use other energy tools in conjunction with a healthy vegan diet etc. which all help towards maintaining overall wellbeing.

I believe that this device is a significant contribution to the emerging field of enlightened science. Such implosion based vortex technology is without doubt the key to our future evolution into a sustainable and harmonious existence.

I personally recommend the Vortex Energiser as part of a holistic lifestyle",

"We are writing to inform you about a wonderful task we were able to complete with one of your coils, the Vortex Energiser. We have a very large pond in our garden, in fact it is more of a small lake. Earlier in October we started having very large numbers of Canada geese coming in for the day, several hundred at a time. At about this time the lake began to change from clear water to some form of contaminated or unhealthy water. It rapidly developed a foul smelling turquoise coloured and marbled surface. We have never experienced anything like this in the whole of the 15 years we have been living here. Clearly something had gone drastically out of balance. We could only think it was something the geese had brought in on their feathers. The deterioration was so rapid that we feared that all the pond life would be affected and die and so we felt we had to try and do something rather than wait to have the water analysed before trying anything.

Then we remembered your story (told at the British Society of Dowers Annual Congress) of trailing the Vortex Energiser around a stagnant water cistern and how that cleared the water over a period. While it seemed almost impossible that anything could be done for the dreadful state of our water we thought anything was worth a try. We dowsed to see whether we should try the coil and to see what we should do with it. We have to admit that to expect that such a small object could create a change in such a large volume of water seemed to be asking too much. However, we were desperate. So we rowed around the lake for an hour dragging the coil through the water behind the boat, focusing upon the worst areas. It was not possible to stay on the water for longer than an hour because of the dreadful ammonia-like smell. We then hung the coil in the water near the inlet to the lake.

To our astonishment, within something like six hours, a change began to take place in the places where we had been rowing. The marbling on the surface seemed to be lessening and the colour began to change from a vivid metallic turquoise to a green colour. We noticed that our ducks and geese seemed to be attracted to go in the water near the coil. By the next day, we were so encouraged by the positive change taking place that we again rowed around for an hour trailing the coil, this time concentrating on other areas of the water where we had spent less time the day before. After rowing, we left the coil in the water near the inlet, as before. Again, within hours we began to see a positive change as the algae (or whatever it was) on the surface began to clear. The quality of the water seemed to be changing from the edges towards the centre and from the top down. Over the next few days the surface cleared completely and the colour went from the wrong colour (a sort of metallic green by then) to a more natural but cloudy green; it then gradually cleared completely until by the end of a week the whole of the water cleared to a crystal clarity, such that it had not actually ever been before. Once the water was clear, we took the coil out and back into the house for its 'normal' use. Since that time the water has remained in top condition and even large influxes of Canada geese have had no deleterious effect.

We cannot tell you how delighted we were and relieved for we had never before seen the water in such dreadful condition. We have to admit that while we were convinced by your research and the claims you make for your coils and the imploded water, it seemed hard to think that one small coil could achieve such an amazing effect in such a large volume of water.

While it seems very obvious to us that it was by using your Vortex Energiser that we were able to rescue the water in our lake, what we do not know of course is what would have happened if we had done nothing. We have no control against which to compare the results. We do not even have any contaminated water to test! So it is hard to make scientific claims. However, we believe we have extremely powerful anecdotal evidence of the value and efficacy of your imploded water and coils. Thank you very much."

"I've been testing out one of these Vortex Energisers on a hot tub. I put it onto the inlet pipe of a hot tub and noticed within a few days of putting it on that the water within the hot tub itself was much, much purer and lighter and seemed to be fresher. Normally, we change the water every several days and normally you notice it getting soupy after a few days. But in this case whatever dirt or impurities in it collected at the bottom and came out of suspension. So, as a result the water is lighter and fresher".

Goff Lalor, the Three Rock Institute for Sustainable Living in Dublin, Ireland.

"Bei einem Freund, dessen Aquarium ein Algenproblem hatte, setzten wir den Computerharmonisierer mit bestem Erfolg ein. Das Algenproblem existiert nicht mehr und es waren sogar Fischeier an der Stelle zu sehen, wo der Harmonisierer angebracht ist."

"I have been using the Vortex Energiser since the beginning of November 1998 and have bought a further 5 units for my family.

I first heard about the Vortex Energiser when I listened to a tape 'Water – Nature's Miracle' and I was immediately attracted to it and ordered my first one. It arrived on a Friday and, as instructed, I hooked it to the grid at the back of my fridge for an hour (to energise the water and food in the fridge/freezer), then left it hanging on a central heating pipe over night (to energise the water in the central heating system). On the Saturday morning, I hooked it to my incoming cold water supply pipe and went home to Dundalk for the weekend.

On Monday morning when I returned, I turned on the cold tap and could not believe the difference in the water.

The water sparkled with life, and was much clearer and fresher than I had ever seen it. It reminded me of my childhood holidays in Greenore when we had to carry our water from a tap connected to a mountain stream source. When I filled a glass and took my first mouthful, the taste was so incredibly different, it was as cold and fresh as if from a mountain spring. I just wanted to keep on drinking the water.

All through the summer I had two 'Busy Lizzie' plants, one at home and one in the office. The one at home thrived but the one in the office was sickly and had attracted some kind of sticky substance, which had been stunting its growth. I took a bottle of the energised water to work and used some to water the plant. Two days later the stickiness had dried and I was able to brush it off. The plant has since flowered (in November and December) and is still doing well:

When I went home to Dundalk the next weekend I took bottles of water with me. When Mammy's dog, Ben (a Border Collie) saw the bottles he behaved as though I was coming in with a parcel from the butchers which would contain a bone for him. It took me a little while to realise that he was 'asking' for some of the water!

Ben is a dog who rarely drinks water in the house, he prefers water from rainwater buckets in the garden. Well, I gave him some of the water into his dish, which he immediately lapped up and asked for more. This was confirmation (if I needed any) that I was not imagining the changes in the water!

I bought a second vortex Energiser for Mammy and 4 more for other members of my family. All report the improvement in the appearance and quality of their water. All are attracted to drink more and more water.

I have also found that cut flowers live longer in the energised water.

Over Christmas, I received a beautiful floral arrangement containing lilies and orchids. With the energised water, I find that the perfume from the flowers is increasing daily rather than decreasing (which would normally be the case) and also all of the unopened flowers have opened. The whole arrangement is much more 'alive' than any previous arrangements.

I am now putting all my fruit and vegetables into my fridge for a few hours when I bring them into the house and I find that they are tasting better and lasting longer.

I am also able to eat oranges and tomatoes to which I had previously been allergic. My belief is that the Vortex Energiser is acting on the water content of these and purifying them of any impurities.

On a general note, I am feeling much more energetic and alive these days.

I would recommend the Vortex Energiser most highly to everyone, young and old, sick or healthy. It is a simple device which is helping to restore our water supply to what nature intended it should be and consequently improving the health and well being of all who come in contact with it".

"Our Vortex Energiser has been in place now for about 6-8 weeks and I would like to share some of the effects that I have noticed.

The main thing is that I seem to have increased vitality and my husband has not complained recently of tiredness or the niggling pains of the past. I have been in contact with colds and stomach upsets and so far this season, have not succumbed. Although I have felt the first slight symptoms of a cold they soon went away.

Another noticeable effect is that cut flowers last longer. This is the time for chrysanthemums, which do make their water smelly and green needing to be changed every two or three days. But this year the water is not affected. In glass vases it is just as clear and sparkling after 10 days to 2 weeks! This is really something that one can objectively notice. An amazing occurrence!"

“I was conducting my own research into energising water for the purpose of brewing kombucha tea. Kombucha is a fungus that lives in a medium of cold sweet tea. During the fermentation process it produces a drink which is a very good detoxification agent and promotes healthy intestinal growth when drunk.

On the continuous brewing system for kombucha, as the fungus isn't removed every week, it is very important for the water to be good quality for a quick brewing process. I was on the search for ways of improving the vitality and energy of water. I started over 500 people brewing kombucha in Ireland. The advice I had always given them was to get the best quality of water they could.

I fitted a Vortex Energiser to my own water system about a year ago and my observations with the continuous brewing of kombucha tea was: the fungus is certainly much more energetic and it promotes growth. Having bottled the brew, a complete new fungus forms within the bottle over a very short period of time. This of obviously indicates that the growth activity of the kombucha is much healthier in this medium of energised water. I did extensive trials with cut flowers with the device also. I simply took newly energised water and existing water and I found that different bunches of cut flowers lasted for over six weeks within the Vortex Energised water, which was quite amazing.

One point, which a lot of healers don't consider, is that it is very difficult to vibrate a dry body. Most people within western societies today unfortunately are very dehydrated. Dehydration of the body comes about by being in close proximity to power cables and electromagnetic fields from mobile phone transmitters, etc. So the body is basically dry and we need the 2 to 3 litres of water a day to keep it functioning. I personally believe that healing takes place on water and the water acts as a transportation system in the body.

We are very happy with the overall results of the Vortex Energised water and herbs. I'm sure that Dolly and Jonathan have set us on the right track with this work”.

“Whilst in U.K. during April this year, I ordered a Personal Harmoniser from you and have been very happy with its performance. I also bought your Information Tape, which I found very interesting.

For many years we have produced steam-distilled water. As I am a dowser, I am able to evaluate the life-force (vitality) of everything we either eat or drink – using 8 as the normal figure for anything – and have found some interesting facts about water. Tap water here [Mauritius], heavily treated with chlorine, goes only two, but when boiled and rested for a while it measures six (the same as the major 2 brands of locally bottled source – i.e. bore-hole water). Most of the charcoal-type filters, which are available here, give a figure of 8, and our steam-distilled water goes 10. For more than one year we have been charging this water up by placing it on a ‘purple plate’, which boosts the water to a phenomenal reading of 40, but since trying your Harmoniser under a jug or bottle of distilled water I get an even more mind-boggling figure of 63 – like drinking liquid gold!

So you will see your Harmoniser has great capacity to improve vitality”.
